SUMMARY OF HOME DEMONSTRATION ACTIVITIES
APACHE COUNTY

December 1, 1938 to November 30, 1939

ANNUAL CONFERENCE: January 4th to 12th inclusive was spent in Tucson attending the Annual Extension Conference. State leaders and resident faculty members combined to make the Conference a most worthwhile and inspirational event. Three days were given over to consideration of National Agricultural programs and problems. Outstanding men in their respective fields led in the discussions.

PROGRAM PLANNING: Following the Annual Conference at Tucson in January, Agent met with eleven representatives from four County communities: St. Johns, Eagar, Springerville, and Eagar (Nutrioso was unable to send representative) at Alpine to plan the 1939 Home Makers Program. With the coming of new specialists it was necessary to revamp the plans already tentatively worked out. Unavoidable shifting and changing of dates served to dampen interest periodically; however, four of the five groups have carried the rather unified program. The Leader and the Secretary of the Home Makers Group at Springerville both moved early in the year; interest and attendance fell off measurably and it was decided to discontinue the club. A few interested persons have attended quite regularly at Eagar.

Miss Delphine Dawson, State Leader, contacted leaders in several communities in February relative to State Office cooperation in the Home Demonstration Agent's programs.

HOME MANAGEMENT & HOUSE FURNISHING: No close follow-up was given Home Accounts as it was felt the previous year should have established the real value of the project with the women. However, Agent and Miss Thelma Huber, Home Management Specialist, while conducting refinishing of furniture projects, during January and March, assisted several ladies to start their project. The Bureau of Home Economics books were ordered by the women.

At least eleven pieces of furniture were completely over-hauled and re-finished. These projects involved tying of springs, re-pading, covering, wood refinishing and slip covers. One set of three pieces at St. Johns looked like new at a small cost. The women have done considerable work on their own since.

In addition to the reupholstery and slip cover projects, Miss Bertha J. Virmond, H.D.A. of Cochise County, presented in September, three all day demonstrations on Rug Making. This was a project long expected and fully appreciated, however, the women feel they need more help. Miss Virmond also gave to the groups a most interesting lecture on her trip to Europe and the Rural Women's Conference in London. The women enjoyed her illustrative material very much.

YARD IMPROVEMENT: Mr. Harvey F. Tate cooperated with the Agent and D. W. Rogers, Agricultural Agent, in presenting illustrated lectures on yard beautification in St. Johns to 41 women and at Round Valley High School ~~xx~~ to 26 men and women from Eagar and Springerville. Selection of plants and shrubs for the particular area was stressed also suggestions for care of plants was given. Mr. Tate further cooperated by sending to Agent formula for plant pest control which were distributed on request. Flower gardens at Eagar were indeed beautiful this summer. The extreme drought at St. Johns seriously effected both flower and vegetable gardens.

FOODS & NUTRITION: A series of four Foods and Nutrition demonstrations were given in each of the four active clubs; the Agent carrying the first and fourth and Miss Jean M. Stewart, specialist in Nutrition directing the second and third as follows:

- 1-Whats New in Vegetable Cookery-Vegetable Cookery Methods emphasized.
- 2-Making Health Attractive;Whole Grain Cereals
- 3-Meats, Meat Structure, Meat Extenders and Meat Substitutes.
- 4-Preserving the Characteristics of Youth with Uses of Sour Milk in the Diet.

In each demonstration typical dishes were prepared and served the women participating. Mimeographed subject matter, bulletins and recipes, were provided by Miss Stewart from the State Office. These have been much used and continue to bring comments from women in every group.

FOOD PRESERVATION: In addition to carrying the food selection and preparation program, food preservation discussions were carried at half day meetings in May and June at which time pressure cooker gauges were tested. A manometer prepared at the University was used and a total of 91 gauges in the County tested during the two visits made by Miss Stewart. More than 100 Canning Bulletins, Extension Circular No. 94 were distributed. Miss Pearl Pace, Home Management Supervisor in the F.S.A. cooperated by ~~bringing~~ bringing to the centers, gauges of cookers owned and operated by F.S.A. Clients. This service has been keenly appreciated and I think contributed materially to sponsering more and safer canning and to waylay existing fears as to operation. Instruction as to care of the equipment was given; in fact, the women were requested to clean the steam vent, ball bearings, etc, while at the meeting.

One meat canning demonstration was held at the Hugh Jamison Ranch forty-two miles northeast of Holbrook. Mr. S. W. Armstrong, Gila County Agricultural Agent and wife assisted Miss Stewart and Agent with the demonstration. Seventeen adults attended chiefly ranchmen of the area. Seventy-eight cans of roast, hamburger, steak and soup were canned from three quarters of a beef.

HOME HEALTH & SANITATION: Home Care of the Sick was presented in each of the following groups: Springerville, Eagar, Nutrioso and Alpine. Mrs. Pearl Tenney, a trained nurse, assisted with the discussion. Agent presented several devices which could be easily made or used to add to the comfort of the patient and assist the home nurse. The second planned demonstration was given over to the County nurse who came into service about this time.

CLOTHING: Miss Lorene Dryden, Clothing Specialist, directed a series of two demonstrations on the Well Dressed Woman. The first dealt with Selection of Styles for the individual figure; the second, Selection of Color, Texture, and Fabric Design in Clothing for the Well Dressed Woman. It is planned we should have Miss Dryden early next year for fitting and fabric study.

4H Clubs: 4H Club work was carried in five communities and was limited to Clothing projects. Individual club membership was small and second year.

First and second year baking clubs got off to a good start at Springerville, but because of a second change of leadership in the first month and inability of the girls or Agent to get another leader, club work was dropped.

Thirty-seven girls enrolled for Clothing; thirty-six completed.

One leader and seven girls attended the 4H Round-up. Lois Peterson and LaMel Farr of St. Johns took second place in the Junior Judging; the demonstration team from Eagar failed to place. The experience was worthwhile and all enjoyed Round-up activities.

PROGRAM FOR 1940: The 1940 Program is only tentatively planned as indicated on accompanying table. Clothing, Handicraft, Nutrition, Food Preservation and Home Furnishings are represented as to subject matter.

Agent appreciates sincerely the subject matter bulletins provided by specialists. Three communities of the County have requested 4H Clubs in connection with public school set-ups--organizations not yet affected, however. Intensive 4H work will be sponsored as a Summer Program.

State 4-H Club Roundup Aug. 30 To Sept. 2

Some 275 or 300 of the outstanding 4-H Club boys and girls will assemble at the University of Arizona for their 26th Annual 4-H Roundup, according to Emil Rovey, Boys' and Girls' Club Specialist. This large group of winners coming from almost every part of Arizona will arrive on the University campus at Tucson Wednesday afternoon, August 30, and will remain until Saturday morning, September 2.

During their stay at the Roundup the young folks will be housed in the University dormitories and meals will be served from the cafeteria on the campus. The program will be sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service and will be characterized by activity from the varied contests and demonstrations in which this group of rural youth will participate.

Competition between county teams will be keen in both the girls and the boys' judging contests. The boys will judge dairy and general livestock at the University Farm where some very fine stock will be used in each of the classes. The girls judging will include competition in baking, canning, clothing and meal preparation contest, which will be conducted in the School of Home Economics. Competition for both the boys and girls will be divided into a junior and senior group on the basis of their ages, with their fifteenth birthday as the dividing line. County judging teams are now being trained under the direction of the county agricultural agents and home demonstration agents, so that the state contest will climax their training and club work. Then they will be ready to start a new year of club work early in September.

The demonstration team contest will also be divided into junior and senior divisions and will include competition in clothing and home improvement, baking and canning, health, crops, livestock, dairy and miscellaneous demonstrations.

A very colorful part of the Roundup will be the Dress Revue. The girls entered in the Senior Dress Revue will be fifth year garment making club members so their entry will represent the finest and most advanced work of this kind among 4-H Club girls. The winner of the Senior Dress Revue will be awarded a trip to the National Club Congress in Chicago to compete for national honors.

The Dress Revue will be filled with entries from the junior division of those girls in the first to fourth years of clothing clubs. All of the dresses made and modeled by the girls in the Revue will be described as to cost and construction.

The 4-H Club Roundup will be climaxed by the annual banquet program on Friday evening, September 2. At this program the winner in each of the contests will be awarded their respective ribbons. The boys and girls winning the trips to the National Club Congress in Chicago will also be named and given recognition.

The association and contests of this Roundup will serve as a stimulus for both the club members and communities and build better club work leaders to return to their own communities for the following year.
